INNOVATIVE AND FLEXIBLE ACADEMICS

At Northwestern, your education is as limitless as your potential.

SIX UNDERGRADUATE SCHOOLS, ONE UNIVERSITY

Explore 180+ academic concentrations with interdisciplinary opportunities. Three-quarters of undergraduates combine multiple areas of study, customizing their education by mixing and matching majors, minors, certificate programs, and outside opportunities. See below for two examples of students' academic trajectories.

GLOBAL PERSPECTIVE

Explore opportunities to study in 50 countries across six continents, participate in international research with the support of undergraduate research grants, or partake in programing through the Buffett Institute for Global Affairs or the Summer Internship Grant Program.

INNOVATION IN ACTION

Launch ideas at the Garage, our hub for student entrepreneurs and incubator of 1,500+ student-founded startups, or engage in groundbreaking research across 90 school-based centers with more than $1 billion in funding.

MAJOR: The focus of a student's studies, typically relevant to career goals.

MINOR: An optional area of study with fewer courses than a major, complementing it or exploring an interest.

CERTIFICATE: An optional focused program requiring fewer courses than a minor, covering niche topics.
